Capacity building of the provincial health department in service delivery and governance of the health sector were major areas of health sector reforms agenda in 1990s. For this purpose, World Bank funded Family Health Project was launched in 1992. This project enabled the department to introduce structured training program for Inservice training by establishing Provincial Health Development Center (PHDC) and Divisional Health Development Centers (DHDCs).
To sustain the initiative the PHDC was raised to the status of first ever Provincial Health Services Academy (PHSA) in Pakistan which was later on granted the status of Attached Department under the administrative control of Health Department, Khyber Pakhtunkhwa.

The main responsibilities of PHSA, inter alia, include pre-services education and training of paramedics, nurses and Lady Health Visitors (LHV's), in-service and refresher trainings of doctors and other cadres of staff of Health Department in addition to acting as technical arm of the Health Department in relation to training and capacity building of human resource.

Presently the PHSA is running a network of 24 institutions comprising of one Postgraduate College of Nursing, ten colleges of Nursing, one Postgraduate Paramedical Institute, three Paramedical Institutes of Medical Technologies, and four Public Health Schools for LHVs training and five Divisional Health Development Centers spread across the province along with the main Provincial Health Services Academy itself, in Peshawar.

All the BS Programs in the institutes under the PHSA network are affiliated with Khyber Medical University Peshawar Khyber Pakhtunkhwa.
